RETAIL INTELLIGENCE

Put simply, this is the term we use to describe the systems and processes in place within the Xena software that allow a business owner to gather real-time information on the profitability of the Individual store or business

It is a known fact that in terms of margin and net profit not all items are created equal.

Once there is enough trading to build historical trend data on items it is possible to pick out the most profitable of the best selling items and from there the information can be used in a variety of ways such as creating a full sales promotion using these items as its base.

When the promotion has run its course there is sufficient data to take this process to the next step. Promotional Analysis will give comparison figures for the promotional period against any other period which will show you just how well the sale was received.

This information can be applied in several areas. Items that are performing poorly can be removed or reduced in quantity while the space created can be filled by items that sell well and for a good margin.
